EXPLORING NEW

This year there weren't a lot of new changes, but a lot of new faces, including an exchange student from Costa Rica. This year we dropped from a varsity football schedule to a J.V. schedule. The gym got a new look with new backboards and colorfully painted bleachers.

Enthused students look forward to a new school year.

Heavenly Father, for the influence of those lives that have enriched ours, we give them and Thee our most sincere thanks. Help us to realize and understand that our every thought, our every deed, our every word, and our every contact with others influences them for better or worse. We pray for Thy help in making all of these thoughts, deeds, words, and contacts manifest Thy spirit and Thy great love for man; in His name. Amen

New Experiences

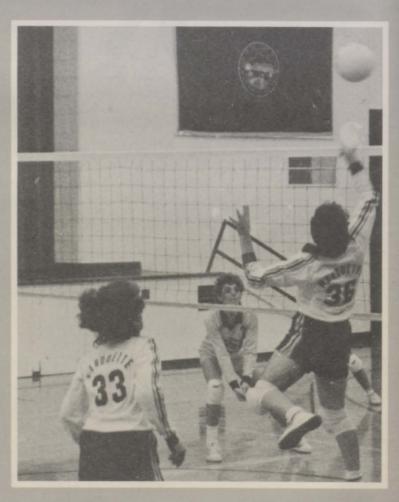

The Cub Girl's volley-ball team ended their season with a record of 6-9. Many changes occurred on the team as a new offense and defense was put in and only 3 starters returned from the previous year.

It was a fun season along with a learning one, and despite the record, the team was proud of their accomplishments.

FOOTBALL TEAM EXPERIENCES CHANGES

1987 Football Team(L to R): L. Jones, K. McHargue, T. Luschei, J. Christenson, L. Reyner, C. Cranmore, W. Young, J. Moore. Back Row: M. Vanosdall, J. Cranmore.

The 1987 Football team of Marquette High School had a year of transition. Our new coach, Andrew Faeh, brought many new ideas to our football program. Our training consisted of more stretching, running, and one of the most important elements, lifting! These activities helped us endure our feelings of fatigue, due to a lack of numbers.

We converted to a J.V. schedule which helped us build our confidence and gain experience. Although we only won one game, the season was still fun! We will be returning to a Varsity/J.V. Schedule next year; we all hope for a better season!

Successful Season

The Marquette girl's basketball team had a successful season, despite coming up short in the District finals against the Benedict Eagles. With five returning letterwinners, the Cubs finished their season with a record of 12-5. Highlights of the year were winning the Sub-District tournament and getting runner-up in the District Playoffs.

BOY'S BASKETBALL:

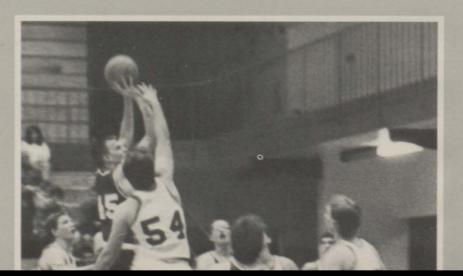

1987-88 Basketball Team (L to R): Front Row S. Jackson, R. Loaiza, J. Christenson, J. Cranmore, K. McHargue, Back Row L. Jones, J. Moore, B. Mersch, C. Cranmore.

The 1987-88 basketball team had 8 members, with only one returning letterwinner, Jacky Moore. Although the Cubs season turned out to be unfortunate, their record (0-16) doesn't show how hard they worked! An obstacle in the way to victory was lack of numbers. Lack of numbers pushed our endurance level to the limit.

This year gave a young team much experience, which will help in the years to come! Good Luck.

TRACK AND FIELD 88

This year's track team had considerable success. The boys and girls combined their effort and three qualified for state. The team members were, Dara J., Lisa P., Jennifer P., Mark V., Wayne Y., Jae C. and Kevin M.

Mark V. qualified for state track after breaking the school record at the district track meet. He also qualified in discus and proved an excellent athlete by placing 4th in that event. He also placed 3rd in the shot-put.

Peggy S. qualified and ran in the 400. Jae C. participated in the triple jump. Congratulations for a job well done.

BAND AND

The band and chorus have been busy this year having again a different instructor. The band worked hard on learning new music and having the older students help the new 7th grade, which is always a challenge.

Both the band and chorus performed at various contests and concerts.

The band students were: Sherry Mlady, Kelli Pritchett, Cory Nissen, Heather Brown, Kenji Lentz, Renee Peterson, Kathryn Culver, Jennifer Penner, Kim VanBibber, Lisa Pritchett, Lonnie Jones, Jason Christenson, Frank Jesse, Dan Foulk, Richie Collins, Kevin McHargue.

The chorus students were: Kim Harris, Bill Mersch, Carmen Christenson, Peggy Swanson, Jennifer Blake, Kevin McHargue, Laurie Mlady.

ACHIEVE GOALS

FFA is an organization developed to teach young people more about agriculture. This year the Marquette FFA members worked hard to achieve their goals. The students participated in many contests and won many awards and ribbons. The Freshman went to the District Livestock Contest in Ord. The Land Judging Team qualified to go to State. At the Vo-Ag contest in Aurora, the Dairy Products Team qualified for state. During National Agriculture Week, the FFA held a poster contest for the grade school. In all, the FFA has been very busy. It was an enjoyable year.

ASSEMBLY - DEDICATION TO RICARDO

The Student Body gets settled in for an assembly.

This year was quite unique for everyone at MHS because of an exchange student from Costa Rica. When Ricardo first came here he was quiet and he wasn't very familiar with our society, but with help from everyone, he soon fit in. Throughout his stay Ricardo was involved in many sports and activities such as football, basketball and FFA. Everyone enjoyed having him here, it was an experience for us all.

The students learn about the effects that drugs, and alcohol can cause.

The 2nd place wall was awarded to the freshman class. The SR's won the competition.

Lisa and Janet dress up for Hillbilly Day.

It is the year 2010. Returning from my long journey to outer space I decided to get in touch with the rest of my class, the class of 1989. While having a great time together, we stated reminiscing our high school years with the class of 1988. We began to wonder what became of them, since no one had seen them since their graduation. As far as we knew, they all went their separate ways.

The first on our list was Sherri Archer. We found Sherri, or should we say we heard Sherri yelling at some cop that caught her her jaywalking, while we were driving down the streets in New York. We asked her what her profession was, and she told us she was teaching etiquette at the most prominent school in New York.

We then decided to head to Hawaii where we knew we could find Penny Andersen. We knew Penny enjoyed spending all of her time in the Marquette Dark Room, but much to our dismay, we found out that she liked laying out on the beach more. When we asked her why she gave up her life long ambition of being a photographer, she said, "Hey dude, I deserve sun and fun!"

On our way back from Hawaii we met Troy Mack on the plane. He had just gotten finished with his vacation and he was headed back to Utah, where he had turned his life around and was very dedicated to the Mormon religion. Along with Troy was the second of his five wives, and her name was Bubbles. As we ended our conversation with Troy, we began to feel quite hungry. We decided to order lunch. As we scanned the menu, we saw that all of the meals were catered by Kim's Foods. We asked the flight attendant if this could possibly be the same Kim Harris we knew. She quickly pointed out an address on the back of the menu to the main distributor of the Catering Company. We soon got ahold of a person at this address, and it was the one and only Kim Harris. We got off the plane as soon as we could, and soon arrived at 3363 Clarke Avenue. We entered the store and there she was. We asked her why she changed the name from the former Jim's Foods, and she said, "I married James, divorced him, and took his father's business right from under him." And then she added, "All I ever really wanted was his money!" We asked Kim if she had heard from Teri Paup any since graduation, and she told us we wouldn't be able to get ahold of her. Then Kim popped the top of a can and offered us a drink of the new and improved Teri Pop!

On our way back to the airport, to board our next plane, we came across a billboard that said, "Steve the flying Nunn, Coming Soon!" We realized that there was only one Steve Nunn, so as we continued walking into the airport, we practically got trampled by thousands of girls running towards his airplane, and all we could hear was, "STEVE, STEVE, STEVE!!!"

We then boarded our plane and rounded off our trip by going back to the great state of Nebraska, because we knew the rest of them were still in the state.

We headed over to find Dara Jacobsen, because we had heard she took over Dose Farms. The rumor was true, we found her out in the lots feeding the cows. When we asked her why she volunteered to do this, she said, "If I didn't do it, it just wouldn't get done!"

Dara then gave us a few places to look for Vickie Montgomery. She told us to look in the Nebraska Stadium, her house up on snob hill, or else laying out at the river with her nine kids. So off we went to her house since it was the closest of the three. We rang the doorbell, and Jim McMann answered. We had no idea she had ever married him. When we asked her why she married him, she said, "Well, you can't let a good thing go to waste!"

Jill Reyner was the next on our list. We found her out at her horse ranch sitting on her porch playing with her five sons. We learned she was taking a break from her career, which was the editor of Playgirl Magazine. When we asked her why she liked her career, she said, "Studs and males are the same thing." Jill gave us some good information on Tammie Swanson. But we really didn't believe her, so of course we had to go straight to Tammie. It was true, Tammie did take over Dr. Ruth's job! We couldn't believe it! When asking her why she took over this position, she said, "You only live once, and if you do it right, once is enough!"

We were only down to two people on our list, and the rumor was thought that they were both at the same place. So we headed off to the Marine Quarters. There we found Valerie Ruzicka picking on Catherine Ferguson, because Catherine told Valerie she wouldn't type a letter for her. It was getting kind of heavy so we figured we better step in. Valerie Ruzicka had made it far in the marines, she had even made it farther than her dear old boyfriend, B. J. Holtan. We could tell this put a large strain on their relationship. We asked her why she insisted on being better than him, and she answered, "I've always known I was the best! That's just the way it was meant to be.

Tired of hearing Valerie boast about herself, which was making us feel inferior to all. We headed towards Catherine. Catherine had always wanted to be a secretary, but we knew her real talent was writing sports articles for the Marine News Den. When we asked her what she thought of her job, she replied, "I don't care!" That then concluded our journey of finding "The Lost Seniors." We hope you all have a great future and don't forget us back in the big town of Marquette.

> Sincerely, THE JUNIORS

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, OF THE CLASS OF "1988."

We, the Senior Class of "1988", being of intelligent minds and perfect bodies, will these items to the following people, and hope they turn out as well as we have

- I PENNY ANDERSEN, will my ability to program her husband's business on the computer to Ms. Malcolm.
- my ability to work in the darkroom to anyone that enjoys the dark, and is a hermit.

 my tardiness and absentees to Lonnie, providing he keeps up my tradition of only going to school the equivalence of half a school year.
- l SHERRI ARCHER, will my shop plane to Jae, so that he can have a real shop project, and my sander to Donna Moore because she likes it so well, my collection of Michael Jordan basketball pictures to Mr. Gilson so he can always remember who is truly #1. my bad attitude to anyone who promises to use it only around Mrs. Dalhke.
- I CATHERINE FERGUSON, will my journalism typing ability to Mark and Wayne, providing they take journalism next year.

 my ability to keep long hair with the same style for a long period of time to Janet and Kim V.

 my ability to talk to other people in American History, and still know what Mr. Harris is talking about to Clint.

 I KIMBERIY HARRIS, will my technological expertise to Ms. Dahlke in hopes that someday she will learn to run the VCR on her own, my ability to go through a year of science never studying, but passing to Lisa P.

 my ability to take a correspondence course and actually finish it to Kelly.

- I DARA JACOBSEN, will my appreciation of Hank Williams Jr. to Bill and Jae.

 my guts (or is it stupidity! Ha) to stay out for track all 4 years of high school to those who aren't out, and to Lisa P. the ability to stick it out One More Year:

 to Kelly and Jennifer, the will power to stay slim, even though Mark and Wayne take them out to eat 4 times a week.
- I TROY MACK, will my ability to get all sorts of girls to Clint.
- my ability to cheat on tests to Jae. my ability to drive wrecklessly to Jacky
- I VICKIE MONTGOMERY, will my high tops to Lisa P
- my ability to wear very little make-up to school to Jennifer P my ability to get out of school early to Lisa C.
- TERESA PAUP, will my ability to wear clothes that don't match to Lisa P, my ability to say no after one cheek to Bill and Jae.
- my ability to make-up new and exciting excuses for being late, and not having any work done to any underclassmen that needs it.
- I JILL REYNER, will my ability to put up with the FFA boys, and be able to keep them in line, to any future girl FFA president.

 my ability to weld and use the cutting torch to Jacky.

 my love of horses and country music to Peggy.

 my car, and my ability to drive around town "legally" to Levi, Lonnie and Jason.

- VALERIE RUZICKA, will my ability to roll out of bed in the morning and come directly to school to Jennifer B. so that she no longer has to awake at the ungodly hour of 6:30 a.m. my temper to Jennifer P. so that when people pick on her they don't get away with it, providing that she doesn't go overboard and kill someone.

 my height to the boys basketball team in hopes that next year all of the starters will be over 5.7°.

 my political preference and admiration for Richard Nixon to any underclassman who can argue well so that Mr. Harris doesn't get too bored without me next year.

- TAMMIE SWANSON, will my basketball talents to Jason, so in the next game that he plays, he will be able to move from his assigned position
- my shooting ability to Peggy, she might need it.
- WE THE CLASS OF "1988", will these things to the following classes:

 To the class of '89, our ability not to gossip, and the ability not to fall asleep in Government class
 - To the class of '90, our ability to get along with each other to the Sophomore girls, and to the boys, our maturity.
 - To the class of '91, our ability not to be all striaght A students and our ability to resist taping up torn notes
 - And finally, to Mr. Harris, we will the ability to keep his sanity in Government class

ATHLETIC

The Marquette High School Athletic Banquet was held on May 7th. Mrs. Susan Gay was the Mistress of Ceremonies. The theme of our banquet was, "On the Edge of a Dream." The theme was appropriate in that students' dreams and aspirations became reality. The student body received awards for their outstanding achievements and participation in extracurricular activities. The music for the dance following the banquet was provided by Complete Music.

Thanks to the student body and staff, the evening was a success.

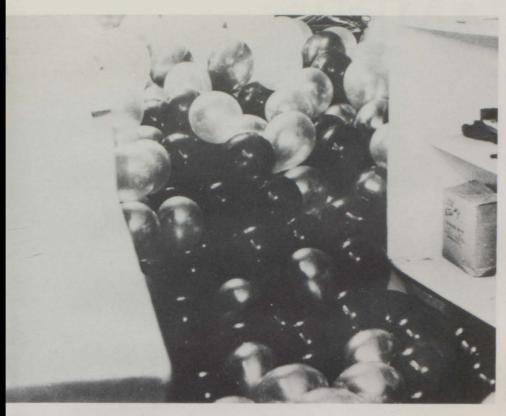

Caught sluffing off.

BANQUET

We have to put up how many balloons?

Being a senior means alot of responsibility.

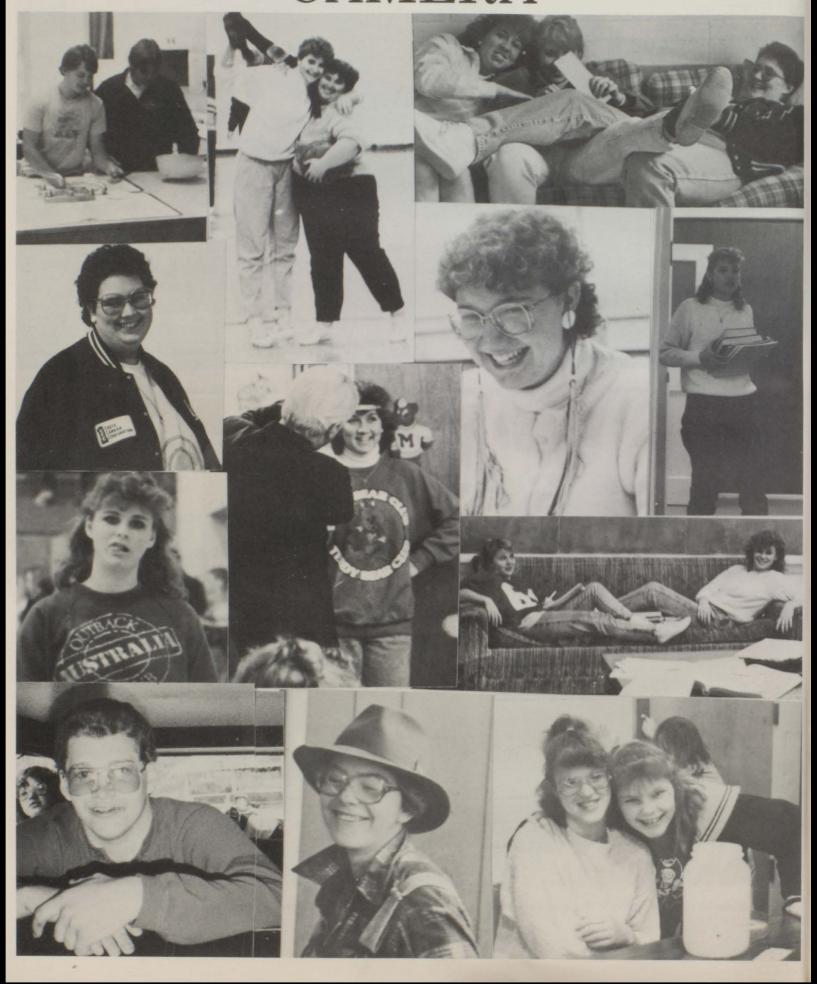

ly castle is almost complete. Now if the prince could get ere.

OH-NO! Make it look like we're working.
